which did mean all kinds of food, as in the days of King James. Therefore, the New King James version was published in 1982, which is also a literal translation of ancient scriptures based upon the KJV. But the language is simply updated to its current usage. The majority of other modern English versions are not literal translations, but interpretations and paraphrases of the scriptures, which are rather prone to the doctrinal bias of the translators. Therefore, the NKJV, is considered the most honest, and highly accurate, literal ("word for word") modern version, with excellent, updated English. It preserves the "majestic feel" of the King James Version (KJV), without using archaic language ("thou" and "thee").

IMPORTANCE OF THE BIBLE IN OUR DAILY LIVES: The Bible is our authentic life instruction manual, and the foundation of all knowledge and truth. It teaches us how to live a life of meaning and purpose, by communicating to us essential information about: God, why we are here, our mission in life (Mt 24:14; 28:18-20; Mk 1:15; 1 Cor 15:58; 2 Tim 4:2), morality (1 Cor 6:9-10, 18-20; 15:33-34; Titus 2:11-15), our future hope (Jer 29:11), and hope of the resurrection (1 Cor 15:20-28, 35-57). (Read Tract: 'Hope Of The Resurrection'). Scriptures reveal Gods character, nature, power and sovereignty, guidance on worship and prayer, divine revelation, and God's ultimate plan of salvation, and thereby, help us to develop a stronger spiritual relationship with Him. Scriptures teach us how to live righteous lives of holiness and godliness, with faithfulness, reverence, and in service to God, that will please Him who is our maker (Titus 2:11-15; Heb 12:28-29), resulting in blessings of success and prosperity (Ps 1). All of life's biggest questions, concerning human origin, the purpose of trials and tribulations, and what happens after death, are answered in the pages of the Bible, which is the undefeatable and true word of God. It plays a profound role in guiding our lives on the narrow path, that leads to everlasting life in the Kingdom of God (Mt 7:13-14). God, through His word, and by the power of His Spirit, delivers us from sinful habits and the resulting consequences, sanctifies—sets us apart and makes us holy, imparts grace and peace, gives joy, and hope for the future, instructs us on how to live a life so that we will inherit the Kingdom of God, and one that is worthy of Him (1 Cor 6:9-10, 18-20; 1 Thes 2:11-12; Rev 5:10).

The Bible's teachings apply directly to modern issues, and its practical application is extremely useful and beneficial in daily living. Therefore, it continues to remain relevant in our modern world. Starting the day with morning devotionals, provide priceless wisdom, knowledge, guidance and truth, and studying Biblical principles will help us in decision-making, for our career or life choices, and navigating life's challenges. The Bible has the dynamic power of spiritually transforming and helping the lives of individuals, by renewing their hearts and minds, so that their actions and lives align with God's will, thereby, essential for spiritual growth, maturity, and development of character. During times of hardship, the Bible is a great and essential source of strength, comfort, hope and encouragement. Studying God's word and putting it into practice in our daily lives will keep us grounded in unchanging truth, so that we can live a life of truth, as genuine Christians, that give a true testimony to the world.

Furthermore, the Bible admonishes us to not be deceived by false prophets. One of the most common schemes of Satan, is to lure us away from God and our callings through false prophets and their false teachings. This is why it is vital that we ask God in prayer, for wisdom and discernment (Col 4:2; Jas 1:5-6), to be able to discern truth from error (Mt 7:15-20; 2 Cor 11:13-15; 1 Tim 6:20-21; 2 Pet 2:1-3; 2 Pet 3:16-17; 1 John 4:1-6; Jude 1:3-4), and make it a daily habit, along with Bible study. In so doing, we will fill our minds with the word of God, which is truth (Jn 17:17), and it will become ingrained in our minds. Thereby, our faith will increase and remain strong (2 Pet 3:18). Studying, proclaiming, and living by every word of God, and God's Spirit working within us, will help us increase our faith, and provide the strength needed to overcome Satan's schemes, which include deception and temptation, as his objective is to thwart our progress in the Lord (Mt 4:4; Lk 4:4; Rom 10:17; Gal 3:1-6; 5:7). Therefore, we ask God to fill us with the Holy Spirit, and make studying, not just reading the Bible, a regular and consistent foundational habit, which will help maintain optimal spiritual health, gain insight into God's character, discover who God is and what He has done for us, and His will, plan and purpose for our lives. The Bible informs our practices, directs our actions, guides our lives, and instructs us in righteous living. It gives instructions on how to build a relationship with God, and remain faithful to Him (2 Tim 2:15). It is the main method that God uses to make Christ present in us, and allow His life to dwell in us richly, so that we become new creatures in Christ Jesus. Spiritual transformation is possible through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit (Rom 8:10, 12-17; 2 Cor 5:17; Gal 5:16-26; Col 3:16-17). Throughout our lives, the living word of God, transforms us and enables us to live in godliness and holiness, and build perseverance, endurance and resilience, as we eagerly await Christ's return (Titus 2:11-15). (Read Tract: 'Perseverance, Endurance, And Resilience').

It's time to delve deeper into God's word. According to 1 Pet 3:15-16, we are exhorted to firstly, sanctify the Lord God in our hearts, that is, make an inner commitment to Christ. Then, by studying God's word, we will be equipped with the knowledge of the truth, so we won't be speechless, but instead, always ready to answer anyone when called on to defend our faith, and asked about the hope we have in Christ. As Christians, we must always be gentlemen and gentle women, even when faced with opposition. Our apologetic ("defense") must be given with gentleness and respect, at all times. Never in degrading terms. Always speaking the truth in love. In this way, the evildoers will be exposed for their slander and false accusations, and be ashamed. The believer's loving attitude exposes the opposition's bitterness.

Furthermore, there are seven beatitudes mentioned in the Book of Revelation (Rev 1:3; 14:13; 16:15; 19:9; 20:6; 22:7, 14). An ultimate blessing is pronounced on those who read, hear and keep the words of prophecy. This includes not just foretelling the future, but also proclaiming any word from God—whether command, instruction, history or prediction. The word "blessed" means much more than "happy", but the ultimate well-being and unique spiritual joy of those who will inherit salvation, and reign as kings and priests in the Kingdom of God (Rev 1:6; 5:10). The way of righteousness is honoring God, and living according to His will. This is the path that leads to blessedness. These are the people of God who will abide in His presence, and are favored with salvation and blessing (Ps 1; 15; 24; Mt 5:3-12).

What makes the Bible the most important, influential and inspirational book in the world? Is the Bible historically and archaeologically accurate and reliable? Let's discover how authentic the Bible really is …

THE BIBLE IS THE BEST SELLING BOOK: According to Guinness World Records, the Bible is the best-selling book of all time, and most widely distributed, non-fiction book in human history. An estimated 5 to 7 billion copies have been sold and distributed globally as of 2021, according to research conducted by the British and Foreign Bible Society. With ongoing distribution for centuries, throughout the globe, and approximately 80 to 100 million new copies printed annually, dating back to the 19th century Bible societies, it is historically and undeniably the most widely read, distributed and translated book on earth. As of early 2026, at least some portion of the Bible exists in over 4,000 languages, with complete Bibles available in more than 790 languages, more than any other work. The Bible was originally written in 3 distinct languages—Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek.

THE BIBLE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT, INFLUENTIAL, AND INSPIRATIONAL BOOK: Consists of 66 separate books of the Old Testament (39 books) and New Testament (27 books), written by about 40 different authors, over a period of 1,500 years. These writers came from remarkably diverse backgrounds and included: kings, shepherds, fishermen, scholars, and physicians. The Bible is viewed by followers as a cohesive narrative beginning with the creation in Genesis, and concludes with the definitive victory over evil, ultimate salvation of humanity, and the glorious, eternal triumph and reign of faithful Christians, alongside the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, in Revelation. The Bible is extensively considered the most significant book in human history, as a result of its unparalleled impact and influence on shaping religion, literature, law, ethics, and culture, predominantly in Western civilization. For example, principles such as justice, righteousness, mercy, and human dignity are rooted in Biblical teaching. Also, the KJV Bible version 1611, has profoundly influenced the English language, culture, and literature. The Bible serves as the main source of spiritual, moral, and cultural influence, and its impact on global culture is immeasurable. It has received universal recognition as having profound influence on the development of human history, and deeply inspired centuries of music, drama, literature, poetry, painting and sculpture, across different cultures, for over 2 millennia. It records crucial world history, including ancient civilizations, kings, places, and events that have been proven by archaeological discoveries and external historical records. Therefore, the Bible maintains universal relevance, and although considered an ancient text, it remains a "living" text for all Christians, and continues to profoundly impact individual's lives, and global events today. Furthermore, scholars and theologians estimate the Bible contains between 1,800 and 2,500 distinct prophecies. About 2,000 of these have already been fulfilled exactly as predicted, while hundreds of others foretell end-time events that are yet to be fulfilled. The Biblical texts, which are of historical reliability, are held in high regard by scholars. The manuscripts predate the majority of other ancient texts. Moreover, fulfilled prophecy is powerful and compelling evidence of God's existence and sovereignty, and demonstrates that God is in control and accomplishes His divine plans throughout history. This brings credibility to Himself, and is a powerful validation of scripture. This means, that we can trust in God and His written word. For example, the book of Ezra demonstrates God's active involvement in world events, and includes the fulfillment of prophecies that prove God's eternal love for His people by demonstrating His active faithfulness. In Ezra 1:1-2, the fulfillment of two major Biblical prophecies is recorded: the end of the 70-year Babylonian exile, and the specific naming of the Persian king Cyrus as the one who would decree the rebuilding of the Jerusalem Temple. Furthermore, God, who is the supreme director of history, foretold through the prophet Jeremiah, the end of the Babylonian Empire (Jer 25:11-12; 29:10). It would occur through a Persian king, named Cyrus, who was called God's shepherd, and His anointed (see also Is 44:28; 45:1-4). God had called Cyrus by name more than 100 years before His birth. He was led by God to bring punishment upon the Babylonian Empire, and to release the exiled Jewish people so they could rebuild Jerusalem, precisely as Isaiah had described. Furthermore, the prophet Isaiah received accurate prophetic fulfillment regarding Cyrus. The prophet Jeremiah, received direct messages from God. Prophetic messages frequently begin with "Thus saith the Lord God," which signifies that God directly communicated these divine messages to the prophets, instead of being personal human ideas, opinions, or inventions. Other examples include Ezekiel (Ezek 30:1-3).

Furthermore, for believers, the Bible is the inspired and pure word of God, and the wellspring of truth, life and accuracy for more than 3,500 years (Pr 16:22). The word of God is a lamp for our feet, and a light for our path (Ps 119:105). It is the ultimate guide, which provides wisdom and guidance for navigating life's challenges, and is a source of truth, strength, hope, inspiration, and encouragement, and ultimately, a message of salvation, thereby, strengthening faith (Rom 10:17). It provides priceless moral guidance, values and principles for living a victorious spiritual life. The Bible is God's revelation to mankind, whom He created in His image. How we respond to God's word will reveal how much we treasure it.

The Bible, which is the foundation of the Christian faith, reveals the character and nature of God, described as truthful, and without iniquity, just and right (Dt 32:4). Moreover, the word of God is regarded as being inspirational, because it's "God-breathed," in accordance with 2 Tim 3:16-17. The primary reference is to the OT, given that some of the NT books had not even been written at this time (see 1 Tim 5:18; 2 Pet 3:15-16 for indications that some NT books—or material ultimately included in the NT—were already considered equal in authority to the OT scriptures). The use of the term "scripture," for both an OT (Dt 25:4) and a NT (Lk 10:7) passage shows that by this time sections of the NT (or what ultimately became a part of the NT) were regarded as equal in authority to the OT scriptures. In 2 Pet 3:16, Peter placed Paul's writings of the NT equal in authority as the God-breathed writings of the OT (2 Pet 1:21; 2 Tim 3:16). In addition, 2 Pet 1:21 mentions the phrase "moved by the Holy Ghost," (see also 2 Tim 3:16), which denotes that both God and man were active participants in the production of scripture. The content of scripture originated with God, so that what it says, is what God has said (Gal 3:8; 1 Tim 5:18). But these human authors also actively spoke, rather than just being simple recorders. Yet what they spoke were divine messages that came from God, as they were empowered, influenced and inspired by the Holy Spirit (2 Pet 1:16-21; Rev 1:1-2). God was the source of the prophetic messages, instead of being the interpretation or imagination of human authors, as affirmed in 2 Pet 1:21, which provides the process of inspiration, whereas 2 Tim 3:16-17 speaks of the writings themselves as the product of inspiration. Therefore, all authors were guided and inspired by the Holy Spirit to record God's messages and truths. The content of the scriptures are of divine origin. They come directly from God. In other words, the Bible is God's word in print. Prophecy of scripture did not arise from mere human interpretation of things. In 2 Tim 3:16, the apostle Paul also declares God's active involvement in the writing of scripture, an involvement so powerful and pervasive that what is written is the pure, infallible, authoritative word of God, and without contradiction. In 1 Thes 2:13, Apostle Paul knew (Gal 1:11-12), along with His regenerated hearers, that the message he preached was direct revelation from God. Apostle Peter also confirms this (1 Pet 3:15-16). In 2 Pet 1:19-21, Peter's message is supported by two solid foundations: (1) God's voice at the transfiguration (v 16-18), (2) significant evidence of scripture (v 19-21).

THE BIBLE IS POWERFUL: The word of God is uniquely and dynamically powerful. It is described as a "living and active" force, and a spiritual "double-edged sword" (Heb 4:12; Eph 6:17), actively working to accomplish God's purposes (Ps 107:20; 147:18; Is 40:7-8; 55:11-13; Gal 3:7-9; Eph 5:26-27; Jas 1:17-18; 1 Pet 1:23). Other sword imagery verses include: Is 49:2; Rev 1:16; 2:12. The sword also symbolizes divine judgment. There is nothing more powerful than the word of God. God's truth was revealed by Jesus who is the incarnate Word (John 1:1-5, 14), but it has also been given verbally. It is a living and an active power that judges human thoughts, motives and intentions, as with an all-seeing eye, penetrating a person's innermost being (Heb 4:12). It exposes evil deeds and schemes, and serves as a vital guide for living the Christian life. In 1 Pet 1:23, the seed is the word of God which is imperishable, living, and enduring. The word of God is pure and endures forever, and God's plans and purposes always last and prevail (Ps 2:1-6; Pr 30:5; Is 40:8). God accomplishes His plans and purposes, and fulfills His promises, concerning the future, which He alone can foretell with accuracy (Ps 33:11; Is 8:9-10; 14:24-27; 46:10-11; 48:12-15; Heb 4:12). His word is viewed as a messenger (Is 9:8; Ps 107:20; Jn 1:1). It powerfully influences those who read it (Is 55:11).

As faithful believers, we must always be ready to preach the needed word of God in any situation, which will correct or guide back to truth, instruct in the truth, and admonish and encourage others to live according to the truth. However, we must also identify false teachings that are in circulation, and rebuke false teachers (2 Tim 4:1-5; Titus 1:10-16; 2:1). We must not follow blind faith. Instead, we must prove for ourselves the truth of God's word (1 Thes 5:21), and diligently search the scriptures (Acts 17:10-11). This will encourage us to press forward in our knowledge of the truth, preach it, and put it into practice in our daily lives (Titus 2:11-15). The living and active word of God has the power to transform lives, as it instructs, guides, and trains us in righteousness and holiness (Josh 1:7-9; Is 41:10; Jer 29:11; Php 4:13). God communicates "special" revelation through His word. It goes beyond what is revealed about God through nature. God discloses spiritual things that would otherwise remain hidden and unknown (Mt 11:25-27; 16:17). The Bible is God's revelation recorded in human language, which makes it exceptionally unique, as no other book printed, published, and distributed in human history.

KEY ASPECTS OF THE BIBLE'S POWER:
1) Transformation: The Bible is powerful, and has the unequalled ability to transform people's lives, renew minds, heal the brokenhearted, give a restored sense of identity and self-worth, and support the vulnerable. It is a moral compass, which gives one the strength, help and guidance needed to break sinful patterns, be set free from demonic influence, and overcome temptations, and provides spiritual wisdom and guidance for living a victorious Christian life, that brings glory and honor to God's name. The Bible is our guidebook that will equip us with the wisdom and knowledge that we need to live a life of good morals, values and principles, and truth, and those who live accordingly, will inherit eternal life in the Kingdom of God (Rev 14:12; 22:14-15). Scriptures provide instructions for building character and integrity (Gal 5:16-26; Php 4:8; 1 Pet 2:11-12). (Read Tract: 'Resist Temptation'). Without holiness, no one will see the Lord (Heb 12:14). Moreover, priceless information is found in the Bible, on how to begin and develop an intimate, spiritual relationship with God. It is our source of inspiration and encouragement, and assures us that God's love and presence is always with us. God is always close to the brokenhearted (Ps 34:18; 51:17; Is 57:15). 2) Authority and truth: The Bible is the authoritative word of God, and our greatest source of precious truth, in a world where truth can scarcely be found (Jn 17:17). 3) Spiritual substance: Abiding in Christ, and putting into practice what we learn through God's word, will provide spiritual nourishment, strength, and vitality in our lives, and ensure that we live a successful, productive, fruit bearing, and "spiritual life," (Jn 6:63; 15:1-17), and "new life in Christ" (Eph 4:22-24). Those who trust in the pure word of God are shielded by God's power (Pr 30:5). In Pr 2:7, the word "shield" is associated with victory, and is for those who put their trust in God, and walk uprightly, with integrity (Ps 7:10; 18:1-3, 35; 84:11-12; Pr 11:3; 19:1; 20:7; 28:6). This means that in our spiritual walk we have the: i) Shield of God's favor - God protects us from harm, and defends us against accusations. He fights on our behalf, as we trust in Him. ii) Reward of integrity - Walking with integrity means being authentic, and living a life that reflects God's word—in faithfulness and truthfulness. We receive God's grace and guidance, when we walk blameless before Him. iii) Promise of victory - True victory doesn't mean a life without trials, but instead, having the ultimate assurance that God will always guard our path throughout our lives. Note: Strong faith acts as a protective barrier that extinguishes fear and anchors us in God's ultimate victory. 4) Enduring and Strong Impact: The Bible is our greatest spiritual treasure, and its influence continues throughout all generations, and forever. It is our everlasting and unchanging source of wisdom and knowledge, that profoundly influences history and individual lives. During challenging times of hardship or grief, the Bible is our source of encouragement, comfort, hope, guidance, strength and healing (Read Tract: 'Perseverance, Endurance, And Resilience'). It promises a glorious future of utopian paradise on earth, with peace, joy and happiness, beyond the current suffering that engulfs the world (Is 11:1-9). (Read Tract: 'Will You Inherit The Kingdom Of God?' and 'Peace In A World Of Turmoil').

AMAZING BIBLE IS RELIABLE: WHY IS THE BIBLE A SOURCE OF TRUTH?
1) Archaeological and historical evidence: Confirmed information: An abundance of archaeological finds have proven the reliability of the Bible, including the existence and authenticity of places, events, individuals and kings stated in the Bible, that were previously considered myth and fable by skeptics. For example, excavations in Jerusalem, Jericho, Babylon, and other ancient cities, support Biblical descriptions. Other examples which validate historical details, include: the discovery of the Pilate Stone (referencing Pontius Pilate) (Mt 27:2; 1 Tim 6:13), the Caiaphas Ossuary (burial box of the high priest) (Mt 26:57), Tel Dan Stele (confirms the existence of king David, and mentions "House of David") (Lk 1:27), Pool of Siloam (Jn 9:7,11), and the Cyrus Cylinder. Note: Similar words of the proclamation recorded in Ezra have been found inscribed on a clay cylinder called the "Cyrus Cylinder" (Ezra 1:1-4). A combination of historical and documentary evidence strongly supports the authenticity of the Bible. National Leaders (Moses and Joshua), prophets (e.g. Isaiah, Jeremiah, Daniel, Ezekiel, Hosea, Micah, Jonah, and Malachi), and disciples, whom were also named apostles (e.g. Peter, James and John), are among the Biblical authors. Historical accuracy*: The Bible is frequently used by archaeologists as a guide, when discoveries are made, and there are no contradictions with Biblical references. Cultural accuracy*: The Hittite monuments (its existence once doubted), and the Cyrus Cylinder, match the textual descriptions of the political and social customs.
2) Fulfilled prophecy: The Bible includes hundreds of in depth predictions regarding future events and individuals that were written centuries before fulfillment. The birth, life, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ is specifically recorded in over 300 specific prophecies, and written in the Old Testament hundreds of years before His birth. For example, His birthplace in Bethlehem (Mic 5:2), betrayal for 30 pieces of silver (Zech 11:12), manner of death (Ps 22), none of His bones would be broken (Ps 34:20), and the Messiah would not see decay in the grave (Ps 16:10). He would be resurrected to life (Hos 6:2). 3) Consistency and unity: Although a compilation of 66 books were written over 1,500 years, by about 40 different authors from diverse backgrounds, the Bible sustains a unified and consistent message and narrative. Furthermore, the Bible also foretells the rise and fall of nations, including the fall of Babylon, and the rise of Cyrus (Is 45:1-4), because God is the ultimate authority over human history (Is 47:1-5; Rev 14:8; 16:19; 17-18). 4) Manuscript reliability: There is an abundance of manuscript evidence that supports the Bible, including thousands of manuscripts, which by far surpass any other ancient works, with significantly smaller time gaps between the original texts, and the earliest existing copy. Discoveries include the Dead Sea Scrolls, which were found near the Dead Sea in the Judean Desert, in 1947, and are proclaimed as the greatest archaeological find of the twentieth century. Over the next few years, other similar remote caves were located in the area, where over 800 fragmentary documents were discovered, chiefly consisting of Hebrew writings on leather (with a few on parchment), including fragments of 190 biblical scrolls. Most of these are small, and contain no more than one-tenth of a book; however, a complete Isaiah scroll has been found. Practically every OT Book is present, along with other writings valued by the community that dwelt in those caves. It appears the earliest scrolls date to the mid-third century BC, and most to the first or second centuries BC. This find contributes to a great understanding of the transmission of the Biblical text, and is encouraging because the differences are minimal between the OT texts of the Dead Sea Scrolls and various editions of the Hebrew texts produced a thousand years later and used today, concerning the smallest textual details. The meaning of the text itself is unaffected by these differences. Therefore these scrolls confirmed that the OT text had been transmitted with remarkable accuracy over a thousand year period. Archaeology continues to consistently support Biblical details, including historical, geographical and cultural. Quantity*: Furthermore, there are over 5,800 Greek manuscripts of the New Testament, and 24,000 with other languages included. The sheer volume of New Testament manuscript evidence is unmatched in ancient literature. Quality*: Thousands of manuscripts when compared, have a consistency rate of 99.5%, with major doctrines unaffected by minor variation. Early dating: Fragments, such as the John Rylands Papyrus (P 52), date to A.D. 125-175, and prove that the text was in circulation within one to two generations of the original writing. 5) Eyewitness accounts: Numerous sections of the Bible, especially the New Testament, were written by people who witnessed the actual events they described. These details could've easily conflicted with other people's depiction of events, who were living at the time, if they were untrue (Lk 1:1-4; Acts 1:1-3; 1 Cor 15:1-9; 2 Pet 1:16-18). The willingness of the disciples to die for their claim that they witnessed Jesus alive, and that He was resurrected, is evidence that they believed in the truthfulness of their testimony. No one would die for a lie. 6) Scientific foreknowledge: Supporters point to Biblical passages that align with scientific concepts, such as: the earth suspended in space (Job 26:7), the spherical shape of the earth, and expansion of the universe (Is 40:22), atmospheric cycles and weight (Job 28:25; 36:27-28), ocean currents (Ps 8:8), and the description of an ordered universe, rather than chaos (Is 45:18; Jer 31:35). God describes the universe as a highly structured masterpiece (Job 38). 7) Transformational power: Throughout history, millions of people have applied the Biblical principles to their lives, and have experienced dynamic personal transformation. For example, deliverance from destructive habits, comfort in suffering, and peace in turmoil. 8) Impact on lives: Throughout the centuries, the Bible has had a profound impact on billions of people, for gaining wisdom, knowledge, insight, and personal experience, with diverse testimonies to share. Furthermore, various books of the Bible have had profound and specific impacts. For example, Genesis is acknowledged as one of the most influential texts for its description of creation and the fall. Other books include the gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke, where Jesus' renowned prophetic teaching, also known as the Olivet Discourse, concerning the signs of the end of the age (Mt 24; Mk 13; and Lk 21), is delivered on the Mount of Olives. (Read Tract: 'Signs Of The End Of The Age'). Also, Jesus delivered His famous moral teachings, known as the Sermon on the Mount, which are found in the gospels of Matthew 5-7 (preached on a mountainside near the Sea of Galilee), and Luke (known as the Sermon on the Plain). These teachings include: the Beatitudes, Golden Rule, instructions on prayer (the Lord's prayer), nonviolence, humility, and loving enemies. What is more, the Book of Romans is regarded as the most influential book of Christian doctrine.

WHICH IS THE MOST ACCURATE BIBLE? The 1611 authorized version, or KJV, became the most widely published and distributed book in the history of the English language. However, its language is over 400 years old, and in the course of time, the definition of numerous words have changed. For example, in Jas 3:13, the word "conversation" means conduct today. The word "meat" would be translated as the word "food,"
